Sorry, forgot to put in last email

Have a look at <https://firenorth.org.au/nafi4/maps> to see how land managers use fire maps to plan their prescribed burns

Sean what is used down south?

Subject: CITS5206 Fire and Heritage Project - Update - defined area and 'client'!

Dear CITS5206 teams,

I hope all is well with you.

An important update. After our last meeting I did some asking around as sean Winter cc-ed) here – heritage expert at Wagyl Kaip Aboriginal Corporation is interested in your work; especially given the damaging bushfires they have had their recently (as per that ABC news link I sent last email).

In other words, this demonstrated the need for a heritage and fire vulnerability tool

Sean has kindly agreed to talk to us this Thursday 1-2 pm on the needs of Wagyl Kaip. The attached map shows the extent of the Wagyl Kaip area – and I suggest each group work on this area – or a sub set of it – using publicly available data from ACHIS and InHerit databases.

Keeping this email short, but I believe this development will help focus your work and give you access to additional expert advice – sean also has long-term practitioner expertise in managing fire, has PhD in Archaeology and has worked in a variety of contexts with great success.

So those of you who are able, join in on Teams this Thursday 1-2 to get our brief from Sean. I have sent out a Teams link for fortnightly meetings (physical venue TBC but it may be an idea to only meet on Teams for efficiency)).

Hi Sven,

Most group members are available on Thursday from 1-2pm.

We are wondering if it is possible to have meeting every two weeks instead of weekly because it allows us to prepare more meaningful progresses and updates for you.

Also, we want to enquire about the meeting can sometimes be hold online as well because some group members are unavailable to attend in-person due to various factors such as long distance and timetable conflicts.

Please let us know if it would work for you.

Kind regards,
Tobin

Dear CITS teams,

Thank you for your interest in the fire vulnerability app.

I am addressing this mail to both groups to save time and to ensure uniform communications.

Happy to meet with both groups simultaneously this Thursday. We could meet – provisionally in Social Sciences 1.10 (venue to be confirmed given the short notice).

Let me know if that works and I can run you through the background to the project.

Dear Prof. Ouzman,

My name is Cloud Wang, and I am writing on behalf of Group 21 in the CITS5206 Capstone Project. We have been assigned to Project 14a – Fire Vulnerability App for Cultural Heritage Sites.

We would like to arrange an initial meeting with you to better understand the project scope, requirements, and your expectations.

Would you be available at any of the following times?

- Wednesday, any time before 3:30 pm
- Thursday afternoon before 2:30 pm

If these times are not convenient, we would be happy to meet at another time that suits you. We are happy to meet either in person or online.

We look forward to working with you.

Kind regards,
Cloud Wang
